

COVID-19 testing in January for on-site workers and learners

To respond to the potential impact of the holiday season, we strongly encourage testing for everyone returning to on-site work in January and for travelers. The enhanced testing protocol below will be in place for the first half of January.

- When on-site workers and learners report to work in January, they will be asked to take two COVID-19 tests a few days apart.
- Tests are available at the Color Test Vending Machines

- You can pick up a Color Test at any Occupational Health Drop in Clinic during our business hours <https://occupationalhealthprogram.ucsf.edu/locations-and-hours-all-locations-can-be-reached-calling-415-885-7580-during-business-hours>
- The first test should be taken on-site on the first day of work in the new year on/after January 1. A second test should be taken 3-5 days after the first test.
- The UCSF Daily Health Screener will provide on-site workers instructions on easy access to testing when they report to work as usual.
- Those who travel out of state are required to get tested within 24 hours of entering UCSF facilities for on-site work. A second test should be taken 3-5 days after the first test, consistent with the overall testing policy.
